Nr.20.

SUBJ.: Participation on Courses.

Referring to the order, that everybody has to answer:

1. On the eleven courses listed on the information sheets circulated—I am NOT interested.

2. I would be glad to participate on a good course of English Language, under the conditions that our tradecraft, cover, and personal record could be freely talked about. I would have gone for English lessons long ago, had I not to bother because of the difficulties one would find there in answering the many questions about one's work and personal life. To go on courses of a foreign language and to think all the time of the security of your work, which might be easily involved in such "harmless" conversations, would be a rather tiring, if not senseless, work: one's attention would be divided, and, thus, the results would be meager. I would be glad to participate on courses where those obstacles would not be hampering the learning.
